To whom it may concern,

I am happy to provide this letter of recommendation for Hannah Reilly.

Hannah interned with me for several months during the development and production of my 2017 collection for LA Fashion Week. I believe in offering my interns a great deal of input and opportunities for collaboration, and I was grateful to have Hannah on my team.

When it came to producing the pieces for LAFW collection, I knew that I could count on Hannah to produce high quality work, especially with hand embroidery. She was also a great asset during our store's grand opening, and jumped in and helped even without being asked. Above all, Hannah has a delightful personality and was always a joy to have in the studio.

I highly recommend her for whatever opportunities she chooses to pursue.

Best,

Candice Cuoco
